TOPICS

Juanita regularly presents keynote and workshop sessions within the broad topic of "better business".

She is the sole partner of the world-renowned "Staying in the Helicopter"® series created by Roger Harrop to help business leaders successfully work on (and not just in) their companies, and provide jargon-free advice on how to succeed in the new game of business.

Juanita has a knack for turning complex concepts into simplified, practical advice based on her own experience as business owner and independent non-executive director.

Her high energy delivery style always leads to audience comments of feeling inspired with renewed hope, and the phrase "I never thought about it that way, thanks Juanita!"
