

About Nomonde White-Ndlovu

Nomonde is a seasoned Technology executive who currently heads up Risk, Governance & Compliance for Absa's Groups Information Technology Office. She has also been the joint-CIO for the organisation's Infrastructure Services and Head of Technology for Absa Regional Operations (previously known as Barclays Africa Regional Management). She began her career in Technology at UCS Solutions and later moved on to other multinational organisations such as British American Tobacco.

As the Chairperson of Wired4Women and in partnership with ITWeb and BCX, Nomonde is able to advocate for the upliftment and recognition of women at an industry level. In this role she is able to actively pursue gender parity and equality in the workplace. Her MBA from GIBS (Gordon Institute of Business Science), a BA Law degree from Wits University and expedient courses from institutions such as MIT, Harvard and the London School of Economics and Political Science as a foundation, Nomonde is continuously growing her skill in the Technology industry, with a strong focus on business strategy, leadership, organizational design and efficiencies.

Technology Executive. Speaker. Thought leader. Moderator

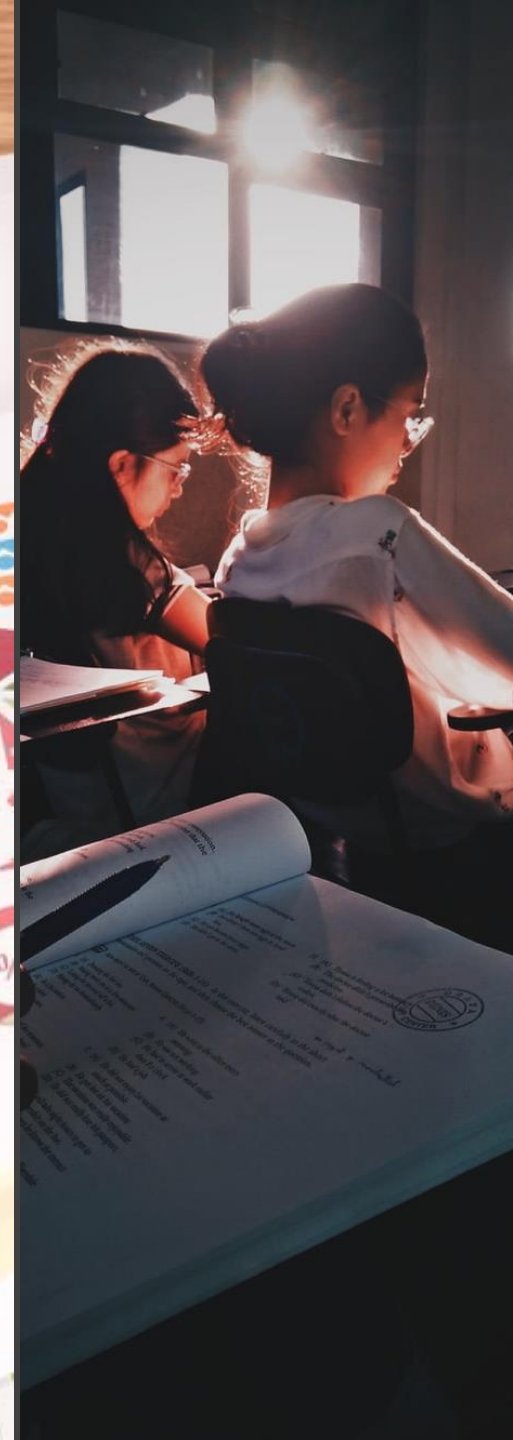

NOTABLE INDUSTRY ACHIEVEMENT

Finalist for the Veuve Clicquot Elle Boss Awards

- Recognised for her leadership skills in the Technology sector by peers and industry

SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS

- LexisNexis Rule of Law Cafe
- MTN CIO Banquet 2019: Panelist
- DELL Technologies Forum 2019: Panelist
- Public Sector Forum 2020: Moderated a discussion on how to leverage technology to empower women
- Standard Bank Top Women Awards 2020: Panel discussion with Vaxowave
- Gordon Institute of Business Science (GIBS) 2020: Moderated a discussion about Technology in the wake of the Covid-19 pandemic with Technology industry leaders.
- Vastly Sage with Amanda Dambuza 2021: Season two guest where the discussion was about Black Female Executives navigating the technology sector

Thank You
